

Feeling Important

Ingrid feels important because her daddy asked her to help him in the garden. She likes working with the earth, especially when she is side by side with her father. Planting seedlings is an important job. They need the perfect amount of water and food in order to grow and be harvested.

- Do you think seedlings have feelings?
- If so, how do you think the seedlings feel being watered by Ingrid?
- Is there a spider in this picture?